Gaynor Resting Easier Today and It Is Not Expected That Any Operation Will Be Necessary.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

New York, Aug. 10.—Detectives from the central office investigated the story of a man named Perlmutter, who claims to have in his possession affidavits that two girls, one his sister, overheard an intoxicated policeman say Monday night:

"Gaynor would be killed either Tuesday or Wednesday for Europe or on his return."

Perlmutter was taken in charge by detectives, and it is said gave him a policeman's number.

Inspector Russell said this afternoon that he had received a partial report on the Perlmutter matter and it had been verified.

New York, Aug. 10.—There were no alarming bulletins from Mayor Gaynor's bedside during the early hours today.

Reports from the hospital were reassuring. Mayor Gaynor passed a good night. He awoke feeling as well as could be expected and refreshed, and a limited quantity of chicken broth.

A consultation of physicians over Mayor Gaynor was held this morning, after which the following official bulletin was issued:

11:00 A. M.—Mayor Gaynor continues to do well and it is the opinion of surgeons that no operation is necessary at this time.

The delegation from Janesville was even larger than last year and a large share of them were at the races where several lower city horses, including Rex and Ray Rex were entered.

hospital this morning, said he had learned that Gaynor's temperature during the night was 103 and that at present it was 105.

It was decided this morning that there would be no operation to remove the split bullet, unless infection set in. It was most remarkable that the pieces of lead could have landed where they did without severing important arteries. An operation would too greatly weaken the patient.

Jersey justice will follow the shooting of Mayor Gaynor, for the authorities of that state are already preparing for the trial of the would-be assassin next week, and if Mayor Gaynor's condition does not change for the better, the proverbial speed of the Jersey courts may have tallager in prison for twenty years before next week ends.

Gaynor was resting comfortably at 1:30 and there was no appreciable change in his condition.

Mayor Gaynor continued to hold his own this afternoon and while his physicians have not pronounced him out of danger they hope an operation to remove the bullet may be unnecessary.

CHIEF APPELBY IS THREATENED WITH COLD LEAD

RECEIVES LETTER WHICH SAYS WRITER WILL GET HIM WITH LEAD IF NECESSARY.

AS TO MAXFIELD CHARGES

Explains Some of the Statements in Maxfield's Paid Article Published Last Evening.

Some one has written a threatening letter to Chief of Police Appleby threatening him with cold lead if necessary to get him. While the writer is unknown, the chief is waiting for developments and in the meantime has something to say relative to the statement published last evening by City Attorney Harry L. Maxfield in which reference is made to the work of Chief of Police Appleby. The threatening letter Mr. Appleby passes over merely stating that he will keep a close watch out for the writer but as to the charges he said this afternoon:

"A short time ago Mr. H. L. Maxfield, City Attorney of Janesville, saw fit to elude me before the Fire and Police Commissioners for no other purpose, as I believe, other than personal.
This was a hearing, not a pretended hearing. I answered all the questions put to me by the board, and they were many, and I was about to be excused from the room, when I asked permission to read a paper, which was granted. So you see I did not do as Mr. Maxfield says; answer the questions by falsely accusing him of neglecting his duty.

"Mr. Maxfield says that he revoked Mrs. Walrath's license and that he asked me for evidence and I could not furnish any. I showed Mr. Maxfield the records that show Mrs. Wal-rath had pleaded guilty. What more could an attorney ask for? And at that, Mrs. Walrath's license was never revoked and she ran her saloon to July 1st, when the license ran out.

"In the Gokey case, Mr. Maxfield says he adjourned the case one week for the Chief to get evidence. The records show that Mr. Gokey asked to have the case adjourned himself, and the judge granted Mr. Gokey's request. Another false impression.

"Mr. Maxfield says that the Chief of Police was going to pull a house but before he pulled it, he would phone them so the boys could get out. I don't know whether he meant the defective and himself or not, but at any rate, for the last three years these places have been pulled by telephone and to come into court at any time specified, and they have always come.

"In Mr. Maxfield's communication it seems as if this world famous defective and Mr. Maxfield cannot express themselves too loudly against me. They tell how open the town is, what an unfit man I am for the office of Chief of Police, and still they say, after belittling me all they can, that a competent man could clean up all the evils in Janesville in one hour.
So, Citizens, I think, such being the case, the conditions cannot be so terrible after all—if they could be remended in one hour—and I will try to find that remedy.

"Now I never have been very shy in carrying on my work and never was afraid to do my duty, but I have received all kinds of threatening letters in past years, and adding to the list, I received yesterday through the mail, the following:

"To the So-Called Chief of Police, Sir: I write you to let you know that we are going to get you. If we cannot get you in any other way, we will get you with cold lead."

"These few lines and the few pointers that friends have given me, leads me to believe that somebody is "real mad" at me. Now probably they have cause, and the only thing I can say is that I will be here as long as I can, let me what may.

"After the circus next Saturday I am going to take a few days with my family at the lake, and when I come back I hope to find everybody good natured and obeying the law."

MURDERER WILL BE SENTENCED TO TERM FOR LIFE

NEGRO WHO KILLED FELLOW WORKER AT BELOIT IN JAIL HERE.

HE WILL PLEAD GUILTY

When Arraigned Before Judge Grimm Tomorrow Morning—Cold Blooded Murder Committed Yesterday.

Charged with the cold blooded murder of a fellow workman at Beloit yesterday noon, a crime to which he freely confesses, Isaac Ike, a degenerate negro, is confined in the county jail awaiting trial. He waived examination in the Beloit municipal court this morning and was brought back to Janesville this noon and will probably be taken before Judge Grimm tomorrow morning when a sentence, which will probably be that of life in Wisconsin, will be given him. Ike has admitted his intention of pleading guilty when arraigned.

The crime for which the negro will probably serve a life sentence in the penitentiary, was a particularly atrocious one. Together with a number of Italian laborers, among whom was his victim, Philad Bosch, Ike was employed in grading a road in the eight hundred block on Prairie avenue. Because, as he stated, Bosch seemed to be ordering him about which "fretted" him, the negro left his work at noon and after securing a couple of drinks and his thirty-two caliber revolver, returned to the place where Bosch was sleeping under a tree.

Ike kicked the Italian several times and when the latter raised his head, shot him, the bullet entering just above Bosch's right eye and passing through his brain. Death was almost instantaneous.

Immediately after committing the murder, Ike ran through Turtle Creek and along the tracks of the C. & M. & St. Paul Ry., finally seeking refuge in a grain field. Here Chief of Police Charles Quinlan and other Frank Lambert, who followed the negro's trail in no patrol as far as possible and after that on foot, cornered him, and after a display of the greatest courage, succeeded in capturing him without firing a shot. The chief narrowly escaped death as the murderer, when the officer was within a few feet of him, reached for his gun and attempted to shoot but was overpowered in time.

Chief Quinlan brought his prisoner to Janesville last night at six o'clock and lodged him in the county jail where he talked freely of the crime and his motive. He showed no signs of remorse and his only anxiety seemed to be in regard to the length of his sentence. This morning he dictated a confession to District Attorney Fisher and was taken to Be-loft at eight o'clock where he waived examination in Judge Ross's court.
The prisoner states that his home

Must Wait.

With the hunting season three weeks away, and a number of hunters with applications for licenses already

Mr. Lee is anxious to secure the

SLAIN AT CROSSING BY FAST EXPRESS

FIVE PROMINENT BALTIMORE PEOPLE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO.

ALL ARE CRUSHED TO DEATH

Locomotive Is Hidden by Cornfield—One of Dead Is Son of Inventor of the "Linotype"—Woman Sounds Warning Cry.

Cape May, N. J., Aug. 10.—The lives of five Baltimoreans were snuffed out when a Pennsylvania express train struck an automobile at a grade crossing on the West Jersey Seashore railroad.

The dead are Frederick W. Feldner and wife, Fritz Merkenthaler and wife, and their chauffeur, M. C. Jones, all of Baltimore. Merkenthaler was the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Feldner.

The party had been spending a few days in Atlantic City and had left for an automobile trip to Cape May.

Cornfield Obscured View.
As they approached the tracks, the fast running express was hidden from view by a cornfield, and it was impossible for the chauffeur to see the train until within a few feet of the tracks.

As the automobile bore down toward the tracks, Mrs. Thomas McNeill, who resides close to the crossing, saw the rapidly approaching express and waved her hand for the automobile driver to stop his car, but the man either did not see the danger signal or thought that he could cross the tracks before the train reached him, and dashed onto the road just as the train reached the crossing.

All Instantly Killed.
The express struck the automobile squarely between the wheels and threw it and all of the occupants clear of the tracks. All five of the riders were instantly killed and badly cut and bruised.

The bodies were quickly gathered together and a physician hurriedly summoned, but a glance at the mangled forms showed that there was no need for medical aid.

So severe was the impact that pieces of the machine were driven on the piston rod.

LOU BILLINGS IS SPEEDY.

Daughter of Lou Dillon Does Exhibition Mile in 2:12 3/4.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—The second day of the North Randall Grand circuit meet was featured by a mile in 2:12 3/4 by Lou Billings, three-year-old daughter of John A. McKerron, 2:04 1/4, and Lou Dillon, 1:58 1/4. Country Jay's half mile in 1:01 1/4 in the second heat of the 2:03 trot and the battle of Puss Johnson, driven by F. G. Jones of Memphis and Dora, the Winnie Burdick mare, for the 2:15 trot. The last race alone required extra heats. Puss Johnson winning the third and fourth, the last under wraps in a downpour of rain. Josie Mac won the first, Dora the second.

Earl Jr., $50 to $30 favorite; toyed with his field in the 2:10 pace.
In the 2:14 pace, Ed Geary drove the Abbe, $50 to $25 favorite, to a victory in three straight heats, the fastest in 2:04.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 10.—Theodore Roosevelt may become president of the University of Minnesota. Formal action looking toward his selection for this office will be taken by the state university board of regents today. The regents believe Colonel Roosevelt will make an active head of the university in September. Before Roosevelt left for Africa, a committee headed by the late Governor Johnson approached him regarding his accepting the presidency. Mr. Roosevelt agreed to consider the matter.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER FINED $8.

Oil King, Through Employee, Pleads Guilty to Speeding Auto.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—John D. Rockefeller, charged with speeding an automobile, pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to three dollars.

Thus reads the records of the court of Cuyahoga County of South Euclid village. Mr. Rockefeller did not appear in court but sent his superintendent instead. The latter admitted his master's guilt and handed over eight dollars, but as the warrant was issued for John D. Rockefeller himself, Justice Dean made the entry as given above.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A HALF DOZEN children bound on one of those wonderful excursions whose chief feature is a fairly ordinary lunch glorified into a feast by being partaken of under the open skies, passed in the other day while we were out walking.

"There, I remember I promised to take my boys out into the woods for a picnic supper soon," said the fresh, happy little lady, who is big sister and chum, as well as a most wonderful mother to her five boys. "You poor dear," pitted the motherly lady, "you have my sympathy. How I do hate to cut outdoors. You never know whether your food is going to be flavored with ants or spiders or pine needles or just plain dirt. I think you are a perfect martyr to those children."

"No such thing," rejoined the fresh little lady indignantly. "Why, I love to eat outdoors just as much as I did when I was a child. I think it's great fun. If I wasn't with you folks, I'd wish I was going with those children this very minute."

"That's the kind of a lady who will always have more friends than she has time for, who will always be wanted wherever she goes, who will always be hailed as a delightful addition to any festivity."

Because she hasn't yet lost her enthusiasm for simple things. I once knew a little girl for whom everybody liked to do things because she enjoyed everything so much. It was a perfect delight to take her on a picnic or an excursion because she simply bubbled over with enthusiasm every minute of the time.

She is grown up now. At least she thinks so. And I fancy myself that she is older now than she will ever be again.

I happened to be with her on a jolly little excursion the other day. Her enthusiasm was pathetic.

"I remember when I was a little girl and used to come up here; what a fuss I used to make about going out on the lake in one of those wretched little boats," she reminisced in the manner of very old young folks. "Why, now I'd want to be paid just to get into one of the dirty little things," and then, with an air of evident pride, "I've certainly outgrown my enthusiasm."

Her air of pride ought to have been an air of regret and sorrow, I think. There is nothing to be proud about in being bored. Absolutely the contrary.

"I've reached the age when one begins to prefer sherbet to ice cream, and orangeade and lemonade to ice cream soda," a whimsical young man remarked to me the other day.

It was a rather clever characterization and I suppose it is symbolic of the attitude that most of us get into as we advance in our twenties.

But oh! I love the people who don't—the dear folks who still childishly delight in ice cream and ice cream soda.

And I think the rest of the world loves them, too.

It laughs at them once in a while, but just as it loves a child so it loves "that child's heart within the man's."

FORSAKEN ROMEO SUES WEALTHY JULIET FOR $50,000—MRS. HELEN WOODRUFF OF STAMFORD, CONN.

(By Special Correspondent.) New York, N. Y.—Young Russell Griswold, prominent socially in New York and Stamford, Conn., sued through his lawyer, Jacob Gordon, heart balm to the amount of $50,000 from the elderly and rich Helen Woodruff Smith.

The romance involved in this breach of promise suit has interested the east as never before similar cases. According to his statement, Griswold alleges that their romance began nine years ago when he was president of the senior class of the Stamford high school. In his golden-haired, blue-eyed, ruddy, unsophisticated boyhood.

That day was fatal to his young heart, Griswold says, when his mother took him to call on the socially famous Mrs. Cummings. He was eighteen years old. He says her charm, her grace of manner, her wit, her beauty—just everything about her—set his heart on fire, and from that time on his thoughts, through nine long years have been all and only for her. She treated him kindly from the first, he went over, and then tenderly, and after her divorce from ex-Mayor Cummings in October, 1907, he was emboldened to ask her hand in marriage. To this, he alleges, she made answer that she "loved him with delight. It was 'Yes.'"

Surely the styles of the season were made for three mothers. The very prettiest frocks and most charming suits are made on simple lines, and well cut and made with an eye to the practical for the girls in her home, and, moreover, one-piece gowns for the smaller maid, or little boy, makes life easier for the home dress maker. The trouble with the mothers is that they will not be satisfied to have things simple. They will embellish and braid and trim until the original lines are lost and the simplicity is destroyed. It is natural, but not very wise. One sensible plain dress which fits and hangs properly and is cut just the right length will outshine a half dozen more elaborate gowns that are ill cut and ill hung.

The young girl who would have plenty of dainties should learn how to sew. Mothers are willing, but there are many calls upon their strength, time and patience. They can accomplish much, but there will be many little toilet belongings that a girl who can sew will have that the thumb-nailed girl will go without.

Where there are several girls in the family it is a wise thing for the person who irons to assort the clothing as it comes from the ironing board. Place each person's belongings in separate places and allow each owner to assort and mend and hang up her own garments. Then the time consumed in fruitless search in so many families will be put to better use. The child will know just what she has and what she needs. There will be none of the uncomfortable search for garments through the various chiffoniers and closets. Responsibility will be developed in each child—for even the boy should put his clothes away, through his mother or sister's mind.

Many men are so hopelessly spoiled by their mothers that they exact as their right the labor of a woman sometimes too tired to stand. Indeed it has been said with much truth that mothers make hard labor sentences for daughters-in-law. It is done with the best intention, but is a thankless system of spoiling a boy or man. It used to be a joke for funny writers—this helpless man who could not find his own shirt, or socks, or hat without "mothers" coming to his aid, but women are growing ashamed of such a condition. It makes a man seem so stupid—and what women could confess her devotion to a stupid man?

Responsibility should be the keynote of the family life. Each member should assume his or her own duties and not shirk. We will see few more mothers when this idea is firmly rooted.

THE MASTER AND THE MAN.

(By MARY RUSSELL.)

The man who is over other men—whether it be the "boss" of a railroad camp or the man who has charge of a great manufacturing institution—must have a certain firmness.

If he would get the best results from the men under him, he must be a master. I have known several such men and there is the widest difference of attitude. One man, who gets good work out of the men who work for him yet fails to hold their respect. They are too intimate with him and resent the times when he feels, as one of them said, "on his dignity." He isn't supposed to have any dignity as far as they are concerned. No privacy which they are not privileged to break, no decision to make about which they are not capable of advising. He is a good man, but he cannot keep his men for long periods. There comes a day when he asserts the superiority of position, the men resent it and, as he says, he "drives them for insubordination."

The insubordination is the direct outcome of his attitude, but he cannot see that. Another treats his men with absolute justice, but as though they were machines. He knows nothing of them save as they show their ability to work at the task he sets them. They fear his blame and never expect praise. That they are not devoted either to him or his interests goes without saying. He is not interested in them save as they do their work for him and they are merely interested in their work to hold their positions. He has a lot of mediocre workmen, for there is no incentive for excellence in any line. No proud moment of commendation for them to be expected.

Then there is a man who handles advertising for various firms. His men travel and are in a measure on honor to do their work well. If complaint comes in he sends the complaint to them with the curt "Why were you not at this place on this date?" that presupposes guilt. Perhaps the complaint is wrong. Very often this is the case, but he takes it for granted that his men are to blame. This does not serve to draw the men to him. They feel the injustice of his attitude before the third man. It is not a thing for wonderment that he is often deceived by his employees, and that they have no real friendship for him or interest in his business.

Another man in a similar position always stands by his men. He sends in his letter of answer to complaints saying that he will investigate, but that he is sure that his employee has done his duty. A copy of this letter goes to the man and he has a chance to stand by his employer. His men both love and admire him. He is so square with them that they feel that his interests are their interests. He says to them in certain cases "use your judgment." It is easy to imagine that they study the situation and really use their judgment for his good—not as it would be in relation to their personal interests.

It is not surprising in any business the man at the head must understand human nature and be able to enter into the personal relation with his men while still retaining their respect. It is not an easy task. It takes honesty of thought and honesty of purpose. It means to eliminate the conceit which turns the heads of some men, who are called by their employees "pinheads." At the same time an honest pride in the business and in the success of men and their chief—that is a legitimate and exhilarating sensation.

The Loose Satin Wrap Worn by Parisiennes.

All-enveloping wraps of soft satin, cut in seamless fashion, and loose almost to shapelessness are the grand chic in Paris just now, and these comfortable wraps are worn not only in the evening, over theater frocks, but also at the races above daytime face and mill costumes. The wrap shown is of cream satin—a very modish color by the way, for wraps of this sort—and there is a lining of Persian silk with a dull gold braid as finish, where the Persian turns back on the plain satin on cuffs and hood. This splendid wrap is accompanied by a wrapped oriental turban which is built over a light frame and protects the hair during a short motor spin to the place of amusement.

A Grateful Defendant. "Why didn't you protest when they charged you with violating the speed regulations?" "I was too thankful to kick," replied Mr. Chuggins. "I've been trying to sell that automobile, and it takes a good deal of strain on my conscience to have somebody else testify that she can go faster than a mile in 10 minutes."

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN, Food Specialist.

A CASE OF INSUFFICIENT EXERCISE.

A young business man wondered why he lacked the "vim" that he needed in his business when he had a good appetite and ate enough and walked two miles a day. There was nothing wrong with his digestion. He had a splendid heredity, a splendid constitution. He had enjoyed rare opportunities for physical education and, with the exception of twenty odd pounds superfluous weight, was a model. His dietary could have been much improved, as might be said about the dietary of most other business men, but it would ordinarily be pronounced good. He had no undue worries, business or domestic, but evidently there was something wrong, and it was a very common wrong. He had never been sick since childhood and every organ was apparently sound; why was he not as energetic or more so than others of his age? He did not dissipate his energies, except by moderate smoking. His case was like that of a horse and a cow equally well fed, watered, housed, but confined to their stalls; the horse suffers from lack of exercise far more than the cow. Many a man of strong motive temperament who has formerly been accustomed to much regular exercise suffers because he exercises only as much as the average man.

The great volume of advertising carried in these columns is due to the great circulation of The Gazette. 6300 homes receive The Gazette daily and from this large number of homes many advertised each day.

Much Worse Things. To be poor is not always pleasant, but worse things than that happen at sea. Small shoes are apt to pinch, but not if you have a small foot; if you have little means it will be well to have little desires. Poverty is no shame, but being discontented with it is. It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness. —Spurgeon.

Tolstoy's Plea for Justice. Justice demands that you should take from people no more than you give them. But there is a way of weighing your work and the work of others of which you avail yourself; besides, you may at any time be incapacitated for work, and you will have to make use of the work of other people. Therefore try to give more than you take so as not to be unjust. —Tolstoy.

TO DECORATE STORES
FOR THE CONVENTIONBusiness Men Are Urged to Make Visit of Hibernians a Notable Event.

On August 23 and 24, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold a state convention in Janesville. To many people this does not mean much, but to business men who are working for the best interests of this city, men who want to see the city progress, who want visitors to come here and go away "boosters" for Janesville, to all these men this convention means a great deal. To say nothing about the money that will be brought by these visitors there is the big feature of this event that should arouse every business man into doing all he can to impress these visitors with the fact that Janesville is a royal good town. That big feature is: "Make a display, decorate the business houses with red, white, blue and green bunting and American flags."

There is nothing that will impress visitors as much as good decorations and plenty of them. Then there is another feature that is often lost sight of and that is that visitors to a city are more apt to visit and make purchases in stores where some ostentatious display is made than they would in stores where no display had been made.

Let Janesville show a real, wholesome welcome spirit by having her stores decorated in honor of these visitors. The civic motto: "You'll Succeed in Janesville," will prove a true slogan, so boost as much as you can.

ANNUAL REUNION OF

it is planned to get as many of them together again as is possible. The reunion will be held in East Side Old Folk's hall and dinner will be served to the veterans and their wives by the members of the local Woman's Relief Corps. Captain Phyllis Norcross of this

RINGLINGS HAVE FIFTY CLOWNS.The Greatest Army of Comedians in the World.

Laughter is the first essential of any entertainment, whether it be given in a theater or under the canvas of a circus. With this fact well in mind, the Ringling Brothers have supplied the performers they are giving this year with an abundance of the richest kind of fun.

A great company of artists, who concern themselves with daring and difficult exploits, is, of course, the solid basis of the show. But people like to laugh. So, added to the serious side of the program, special is given by the cleverest band of clowns ever assembled. There are fifty of them.
Each is a master of the art of making people forget their troubles. Every punch in the exciting bill is filled with delicious skits, screaming puns, bawling, bewitching tomfoolery, travesties on political and public happenings and hilarious black jokes in general.

These clowns are original and versatile. They are the creators of all things that are funny. The clowns of other shows try to imitate them, but fall far short of their patterns.
Many of them are from the comic opera theaters of England and the Continent. Some of them have made kings laugh in the royal courts of Asia. Others are from our own vaudeville and musical comedy companies.
They are as mischievous a bunch of sky-fighters as ever smelted sawdust.
From thrills the audience turns to laughter, and from laughter back to thrills. When the high-air feats of the daring acrobats are not sending cold chills up and down ten thousand spinal columns, the clowns are making spectators hold their sides and shout with the joy of living.

When the Ringlings come to Janesville, on Saturday, Aug. 13, it will be the cue for all who love to laugh to get ready for a season of rib-tickling delight. Old grouches are invited as well. It will take the knots out of their brows to see so much good humor. The sunny side of life will be held up to them so they cannot fail to see it.

The day will begin with an all-new parade, made in the foreign workshops of the show at Stoke-on-Trent, England, from designs executed by the best artists of France and Italy and costing the showmen over $1,000,000.
It will be three miles long. It is a fashion plate of styles, brilliant workmanship and novel and costly.

The new menagerie, with its fascinating baby colony, family of giraffes, Darwin, the missing link, and more than one-half the elephants in America, is a feature in itself worth a long journey to see. It is the most complete zoo in America, displayed in all new and elaborate dens, cages, pens, tanks and lots.

One decided improvement that will be welcome to visitors is the new number of seating people. Everybody has his own seat, with a place to put his feet. Uniformed guides, ushers and attendants will do all in their power to hold to the enjoyment of patrons.

Old Family Seat Sold.

Amherst hall, near Tamworth, England, which has just been sold, was the seat of the Ringling family for 88 years. The family shows an unbroken descent from father to son for more than 20 generations.

OLD SOLDIERS HAVE ENJOYABLE REUNION
AT THE LINE CITYDedication of the Old Cannon in Belolt Today Was Full of Interests to Veterans.

(BY UNITED PRESS.)
Beloit, Aug. 9.—Old "Boys" of the Rebellion of nearly fifty years ago rode through the streets of Beloit this afternoon on an old war cannon.
They were on their way to the city park where later the cannon was dedicated to the Fourth Wisconsin Battery, a company of artillery that did valiant service in the war.

The cannon was drawn by six horses driven by three veterans, the three men thus honored being James Wilkins of Beloit, Al. Holstein of Clinton, and Charles Schottel of Riverston, Ill., all members of the old battery.

There was a business meeting this morning. About the old cannon took place the exercises of dedication, including addresses by Department Commander Frank A. Walsh, and Lieut. Col. J. A. Watrous of Milwa-aukee, W. J. McKay, Past Assistant Adjutant General, and Phyllis Norcross of Janesville, who spoke on "Rock County in the War." Mayor C. E.
Cunningham gave the address of welcome and the response was given by J. E. Carle of Janesville.

The official program for the day was as follows:

At 11 o'clock there was a business

$2,000,000 FIRE IN BOSTON BUSINESS CENTERCity Obligated to Call on Neighboring Towns for Aid—Fifty Homes Burned.

Boston, Aug. 10.—Panned by a heavy southwest gale flames which caused a loss of nearly $2,000,000 last night for a time seriously threatened the business section of Boston.

The flames were first discovered in the lumber yard of Blacker and Shepard and within a few minutes had spread until Dey and Albany streets were a mass of flames.

A general alarm called all the fire apparatus in the city to the scene and later a call for help was sent to Brookline, Cambridge and Somerville and all the available fire fighting apparatus in those towns was rushed to the scene of the conflagration.

Two lumber yards, fifty tenement houses and the Dover street bridge were in flames at one time. Three pieces of fire apparatus were lost by the department because of the rush of the flames. Several firemen and many police men had narrow escapes from serious injury. Many of the tenement house dwellers in the fire zone also had narrow escapes from the rapidly spreading flames.

Hundreds of pounds of dynamite were used to blow up buildings on both Dover and Albany streets to stop the progress of the conflagration, which was sweeping toward Washington street and the great shopping and business district when it was checked.

While this fire was in progress another which threatened to be nearly as large raged in the wholesale district in the heart of the city, in the five-story stone building at Nos. 55-59 High street, occupied by the H. W.
Johns-Manville company. The building was completely destroyed. Loss $400,000.

Reel Beginnings.

Should we ever reach the point at which some particular vice has become a sort of second nature to us, it will do no good to call at fate or dominion. There is no fate for us, but such as we choose for ourselves. We have it in our power to make or mar ourselves. If we choose to make, rather than mar, our destiny, we have the secret, given long ago by one who knew: "Reel beginnings."
